DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 2-17 and 19-20, drawn to a method of treating an ocular neovascular disease in a patient comprising administering to the patient an anti-VEGF aptamer in a controlled released formulation, classifiable in class 514, subclass 44.
- II. Claims 2-6 and 17 drawn to a method of treating an ocular neovascular disease in a patient comprising administering to the patient an anti-VEGF antibody or antibody fragment in a controlled released formulation, classifiable in class 514, subclass 44.
- III. Claims 2-6 and 17 drawn to a method of treating an ocular neovascular disease in a patient comprising administering to the patient an anti-VEGF antisense in a controlled released formulation, classifiable in class 514, subclass 44.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of group I, II and III are all unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case, each method is unrelated because each has a different function and a different effect for the reasons listed below.

The method of treating an ocular neovascular disease in a patient comprising administering an anti-VEGF aptamer (group I), the method of treating an ocular neovascular disease in a patient comprising administering an anti-VEGF antibody (group II) and the method of treating an ocular neovascular disease in a patient comprising administering an anti-VEGF antisense molecule (group III) are all unrelated as they utilize different products which demonstrates that each method has a different mode of operation. For instance, the methods of group I utilize an aptamer, the methods of group II utilize an antibody and the methods of group III utilize an antisense molecule which are not disclosed as useful together and furthermore are different molecules entirely and have different functions, effects and modes of operation. Finally, it is a serious search burden on the examiner to search and examine inventions of this type in the same application because the searches are divergent and non-coextensive.

Claim 1 link(s) inventions I-III and claim 18 link(s) inventions I-III, each group comprising its own invention as outlined above. The restriction requirement between the linked inventions is subject to the nonallowance of the linking claim(s), claim 1 and 18. Upon the allowance of the linking claim(s), the restriction requirement as to the linked inventions shall be withdrawn and any claim(s) depending from or otherwise including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) will be entitled to examination in the instant application. Applicant(s) are advised that if any such claim(s) depending from or including all the limitations of the allowable linking claim(s) is/are presented in a continuation or divisional application, the claims of the continuation or divisional application may be subject to provisional statutory and/or nonstatutory double patenting rejections over the claims of the instant application. Where a restriction requirement is withdrawn, the provisions of 35 U.S.C. 121 are no longer applicable.

In re Ziegler, 44 F.2d 1211, 1215, 170 USPQ 129, 131-32 (CCPA 1971). See also MPEP § 804.01.

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.
